News And Trivia

1/ After a 27 year career at the BBC – across radio and TV – who has just been fired for the dubiously vague reason of “personal conduct”?

Scott Mills

2/ TRUE OR FALSE: In a touching tribute to his late father, Jack Osbourne has just named his newborn daughter Ozzy.

TRUE

3/ Morrissey cancelled a festival appearance earlier this month in his characteristically understated style, claiming it will take him “one year to recover (and that is an understatement)” from the incident. What happened?

a/ He found the festival too loud

b/ There was a burger truck on site

c/ Johnny Marr was rumoured to be doing a secret DJ set on another stage

4/ Which 2000s one-hit wonder just successfully defended a defamation claim brought against him by Ohio Police for releasing a full album of diss tracks about the officers who arrested him in 2022 – suggesting (among other things) he’d shagged one of their wives doggy-style?

Afroman

5/ What item of ill-fitting attire has Trump been buying for his closest advisers – simply guessing their size and expecting them to wear them?

Shoes (Florsheim Shoes, if you’re really into details)

6/ The artwork of whose hugely viral 2025 album has just been hung in the National Portrait Gallery?

Lily Allen (West End Girl)

7/ Which relatively recently deceased actor is due to make his first posthumous starring role in a film called As Deep As The Grave – thanks to AI?

Val Kilmer

8/ This Life is enjoying a 30 year retrospective at the moment. Who was the music advisor on the show – helping to select the theme tune?

a/ Hans Zimmer

b/ Louis Walsh

c/ Ricky Gervais

9/ The latest film in the Scream franchise is out. What number are we up to now?
